

Lisa Bishop
Start Smart Program Graduate &
Economic Opportunities Fund (EOF) Client

"What I love best about small business ownership are the relationships I build and the services that I can offer people."

Lisa's love of writing, experience publishing her church's newsletter, and a BA from Temple in Journalism led her to open a home-based one-stop printing and publishing business, Voice of Victory Publishing (VVP). With the help of WORC's Start Smart training and an EOF loan, Lisa purchased new equipment for the business and expanded to a recently acquired retail location in Philadelphia's Olney neighborhood. VVP's services have helped numerous small businesses, including WORC clients, to whom Lisa provides discounted services. Her future plans include upgrading her website and adding a retail arm to her business offering school supplies.